ABSTRACT

This study aims to determine the perception of the role of Electronic Word of Mouth and Buying Interest in Screamous products, as well as to determine the influence of Electronic Word of Mouth on Buying Interest simultaneously and partially in Screamous products. This study used quantitative research methods with a descriptive and verifiative approach with a sample of 100 Screamous consumers using non-probability techniques with a Purposive Sampling sampling approach. The data analysis used in this study is simple linear regression analysis. The results showed that Electronic Word of Mouth was included in the "not good" category and Buying Interest in Screamous products was included in the "not good" category. The results of the verifiative analysis show that the Electronic Word of Mouth variable partially and simultaneously affects the variable of buying interest. Electronic Word of Mouth has an effect on Purchase Interest for Screamous products, amounting to 65.3% and the remaining 34.7% is explained by other variables not proposed in this study.
